

Founded in 1972, the Louisiana Parish Engineers and Supervisors Association (LPESA) exists to increase professionalism among public works employees and agencies enabling them to raise the standard of services delivered to communities. LPESA furthers this objective through professional development, networking and communication among peers, technology exchange, and providing public information to promote understanding of public works issues. LPESA partners with related Louisiana and national associations and maintains a close relationship with the Local Technical Assistance Program in striving to fulfill its mission. LPESA's goal is active membership by every parish in Louisiana.
